

Welcome to the Defence Administration site of the Australian Defence Staff (London).

This site is designed for use by Australian Defence personnel either due to be posted or posted to the UK (and some other EU destinations). In particular this site will provide you with:

- essential planning and pre-departure information,
- arrival information
- in-post information relevant to your stay in the UK/Europe, and
- return to Australia information and procedures.

Also provided is a members forum with lots of top tips and handy information contributed by members for members (this section is only available with full access)

REMEMBER: Policy and entitlements often change. Every effort will be made to ensure that these briefs are adjusted as required, however they cannot be used as an authoritative reference for entitlements. You should contact the relevant desk officer or policy manual to confirm your entitlements before proceeding if you are unsure.
